regulation of the Traminer, which, in contrast to the other grape varieties, is permitted to have residual sugar, and may be bottled as an Ortswein (Loose) also semi-dry or as a Prädikatswein (Spätlese, Auslese, Eiswein et. al.) The climate reflects the convergence of the hot, dry, Pannonian climate with humid Mediterranean influences. The vines grow in the warm earth of volcanic rock, basalt, sand, loam and weathered rock.

WEINGUT FRAUWALLNER

Just like their maker, the wines of Weingut Frauwallner speak a clear and honest language. The grapes stem 100 percent from Vulkanland Steiermark and each variety, each wine, is given its unique voice. It is a true joy to taste this series of wines – a potpourri of unique characters, each with pronounced regional typicity and an inimitable signature. “There should be plenty of expression in the glass and the terroir should be clearly recognisable without ever losing ease of enjoyment,” summarises the young father of two. And indeed he does achieve this quite impressively in three series of wines. The traditional varietal wines appear under “Vulkanland Steiermark” and are fermented in stainless steel and prove to be cheerful, easy drinking wines. The single-vineyard wines from the calcareous Ried Stradner Rosenberg and Ried Steintal or from the mineral-rich Ried Buch exhibit great depth and finesse. Those seeking to discover the true taste of the Vulkanland Steiermark can simply not ignore this producer. His Weissburgunder (Pinot Blanc) Grauburgunder (Pinot Gris), Morillon (Chardonnay), Sauvignon Blanc and Traminer have established a firm place on the domestic market among the top wines of the region. Since 2018 the winery has also been a member of the “Steirische Terroir und Klassikweingüter - STK” (Styrian Terroir and Classic Wineries). Manual vineyard work, which includes meticulous canopy management, yield restriction and selective harvesting of grape berries, is obligatory for this vintner. Patience and time are the virtues of his vinification philosophy. The vinification facility is practically oriented and without pomp and circumstance, an exciting assortment of wines is produced. The wines can be tasted at the winery's shop in Karbach.

94 Traminer * Ried Stradner Rosenberg 2019

94 Traminer * Ried Rosenberg 2018

Pale yellow with gold highlights. Delicate litchi and papaya with marshmallow and a subtle smoked bacon note. Full bodied and elegant with good integrated acidity and oak components. Peach and a touch of salt join in on the finish. Good potential for future development.

93 Traminer Ried Stradner Rosenberg 2017

95 Sauvignon Blanc * Straden Privat 2018

95 Sauvignon Blanc Privat 2017

Pale yellow with silver highlights. Litchi and white peach with nuances of orange zest and delicate peppery spice. Tautly knit with delicate sweet fruit and a spicy texture wrapped around a pleasant spine of acid. Compact and vibrantly structured with lemon and lime notes on the long aftertaste.
